BIANCO ANTICO

GRANITE

BRAZIL

BIANCO ANTICO

Description

Bianco Antico is extracted in the state of Ceará in Brazil, renowned for the beauty of its wild beaches, tropical climate and authentic fishermen villages. The granite extracted is a tribute to its region. Not only does Brazil offer its visitors a fascinating culture, its geodiversity enables it to create a stone like the Bianco Antico. The predominant colors are whites and greys, with taupe and bordeaux tones in its movement. The quartz crystals are clear, adding to this stones' depth. It is ideal for both commercial and residential applications.

In the course of the polishing process, an epoxy resin is applied to the stone's surface to fill part of its porosity (or pores) and natural cracks that may be apparent. This has no incident on the durability, the maintenance or the beauty of the natural stone. It is possible that certain pores are too small to contain efficiently the resin, and reopen during the finishing stages. However, this does not affect the stone's quality or beauty. Such as it is the case with many natural stones, it is recommended to apply a sealer to extend its beauty through time.
