SUPREME WHITE

Description

Supreme White is extracted from a quarry in Brazil, one of the largest exporters of natural stone in the world. A continent with breathtaking landscapes that have travelled the world and thanks to this stone, will grace the homes of those lucky enough to incorporate it into their designs.

It is a dolomite marble with a very dense structure. The color variation is considerable between lots. Even though the stone's name is Supreme White, its actual colors are a blend of whites with grey veining. Even though it may be more subject to etching, patina and stains, regular upkeep with a sealer will allow to preserve its beauty and unique appearance. Fibreglass is applied to the back of the stone to ensure a safe manipulation and fabrication.
